

Essex Mountain County Sanatorium

The Recently Restored Documentary Film Showing Treatment Given Patients
In a 20-Building Complex on Over 200 Acres.

Photo from the NJIC collection

Essex Mountain Sanatorium in 1933.

Tuesday
March 14, 2017
6 to 8 p.m.

Photo by Larissa Brookes

Instrument for treatment of a collapsed lung.

Speakers:

Lee Reichman, M.D., M.P.H., Founding Executive Director of the Rutgers New Jersey Medical School Global Tuberculosis Institute, on the past, present and future of TB elimination. In 2014, TB resulted in 1.5 million deaths worldwide.

Sandra Moss, MD, M.A. (history), on New Jersey's preventoriums, institutions for patients who did not have an active form of the disease.

Excerpts of the 53-minute silent film will be shown with musical accompaniment by Joe Frame, guitarist. Restoration was funded by a grant from the National Film Preservation Foundation.

Medical tools that predated antibiotics, and publications relating to TB, will be exhibited.

Auditorium, 4th floor
Newark Public Library
5 Washington St.
Newark, NJ
973-733-7775

Cosponsored by the Global Tuberculosis Institute at Rutgers New Jersey Medical School.

www.npl.org

